

Andreadou Eleni

Dr Andreadou Eleni has obtained a PhD in Biochemistry at the Biochemistry Laboratory of Chemical Department of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. Since 2002 she teaches at Technological Education Institution of Thessaloniki (nowadays International University of Greece) courses of her specialty, while since 2016 she teaches in the Postgraduate

Program of the Department of Medicine School of Democritus University of Thrace in collaboration with the Department of Technological Laboratories, nowadays Department of Biomedical Sciences of IHU which is entitled: “Biomedical and Molecular Sciences in Diagnosis and Treatment of Diseases”. She is experienced on various research topics including Alzheimer’s, while since January 2020 she works as a postdoctoral researcher at the Biochemistry Laboratory of Chemical Department of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki where she deals with the investigation of various virulence factors and their possible involvement in Alzheimer's disease. She has participated in 6 research programs and she has 14 publications in international journals and 15 participations in conferences.