

Evgenia Gavopoulou

My name is Evgenia Gavopoulou, I am Dentist and I have a MSc in Clinical Nutrition of the Medical School of the Aristotle University in Thessaloniki. I have been a member of the Dentist Association of Thessaloniki and working in my private surgery since 2003. In 2007 I joined Alzheimer Hellas and since then I have been working there as a dentist. In particular, I am a member of the Home Care Unit and I am responsible for the dental and stomatological treatment of patients with severe symptoms of dementia. I also address other problems of these patients related to swallowing and hydration. Furthermore, I provide my services in the field of preventive dental health care to patients visiting the medical unit of Alzheimer Hellas. I take active part in conferences, seminars and lectures related to the Dental Medicine and the Alzheimer Disease both as a trainer and a trainee. I also participate in the organization of training sessions and information campaigns on TV and in radio shows. In the past I have been President of the Panhellenic Institute of Neurodegenerative Diseases. I am a mother of three daughters.
