

Prof. Grigorios Nasios, MD, PhD., Neurologist – Clinical Neurophysiologist

Present academic position: Associate Professor, Department of Speech and Language Therapy, University of Ioannina, Greece.

Research fields: Cognitive and behavioral Neurology, Neurophysiology Aphasiology, Disorders of communication in neurological diseases, Dysphagia in stroke and neurocognitive disorders, Cognitive rehabilitation. Education: 1990: graduation from Ioannina University's Medical School, Greece , 1996: Specialty in Clinical Neurology (University hospital of Ioannina, Greece), 2001: Doctoral degree in Medicine, University of Ioannina, Greece. Academic and research activity: More than 15 years of experience in teaching at various academic settings, (undergraduate and postgraduate students, in seminars, as invited speaker, and as doctoral students' supervisor). More than 100 published research articles in reputed journals (h-index 18, i-10 index 27), presented more than 80 presentations at international congresses. Member of Professional-scientific organizations: Greek Neurological Society, Greek Neurophysiological Society, European Academy of Neurology, Academy of Neurorehabilitation (Greek)

