

Yener Görsev

MD, PhD., Professor of Neurology, Izmir University of Economics, Faculty of Medicine, Department of Neurology. She completed the Faculty of Medicine at Ege University and her neurology specialty education at Dokuz Eylül University. In which she worked as a Neurology Faculty member between 1994- 2020. She joined to Neurology staff at Izmir University of Economics. She completed her PhD program in Biophysics with the thesis of ""Event-Related Brain Oscillations in Alzheimer's Disease"" and became a specialist in ""Clinical Neurophysiology"" in 2011. Between 2005 and 2008, she served as founder chair of the Department of Neurosciences, Institute of Health Sciences, Dokuz Eylül University in which she still continues to serve. She was one of the founder members of the executive committee of Turkish Alzheimer Association, and founder chair of the Izmir Branch. She is also a guest researcher in Izmir Biomedicine and Genome Center. Her special interests include cognitive neurophysiology, EEG, event-related potentials and oscillations, dementia, behavioral neurology, and medical education.

