

Yiannopoulou G. Konstantina MD, PhD Neurologist

Director of the 2nd Department of Neurology. Director of the Special Memory Clinic. Henry Dunant Hospital Center. Education, recurrent training, qualifications: University of Athens Medical School: 1986-1992 Specialty in Neurology. Neurology Department of the Hospital of Hellenic Red Cross in Athens (1996 - 1999). Specialist Qualification in Neurology (11/1/2000). Training at the Neurogenetics laboratory of the University of Athens, Eginition Hospital (1995–1996). Training at the Neurophysiology laboratory of the Hospital of Hellenic Red Cross (1995-1996). Recurrent training at the Neurology department of the Nordwest Krankenhaus of Frankfurt: Acute Stroke Unit; Intensive Care Unit for Patients suffering from Neurological disorders, special myasthenia clinic. (1999). Recurrent training at the Neurophysiology Laboratory of the Neurology Department of the Hospital of Hellenic Red Cross: Electromyography, Electroencephalography (2000). Recurrent training at the Neurophysiology Department of the Neurology Clinic of the University of Milan: Electromyography, Electroencephalography, Evoked Response Potential, Magnetic Stimulation, Therapeutic application of the Botulinum toxin (2000)

