

Chatzikostopoulos Thanos

Chatzikostopoulos Thanos was born in Thessaloniki, Greece, in 1997. He has studied Psychology (2015-2020) at the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (AUTH) and he has a MSc on Neurosciences and Neurodegenerative Diseases. He is, also, trained in Cognitive Behavioral Psychotherapy. He has worked as a psychologist at the 1st University Department of Neurology (Aristotle University of Thessaloniki), where he has performed neuropsychological assessments on people with cognitive impairment and patients with Multiple Sclerosis. Currently, he is a psychologist and cognitive-behavioral psychotherapist working for Greek Association of Alzheimer Disease and Related Disorders, where he performs neuropsychological assessments on elderly people, runs cognitive training programs and he is the coordinator of ongoing clinical trials on the effects of natural products on dementia. Moreover, he is rater in clinical trials Evoke and Evoke+ of Novo Nordisk in Greece. He has attended 7 national and 2 global conferences and over 10 seminars on psychology and psychotherapy and he has 2 publications in scientific journals, and he is the writer of two chapters in books. His main scientific interests revolve mainly around Neuropsychology, Memory, Dementia and Psychotherapy.

