

Diamantidou Alexandra

Alexandra Diamantidou was born in Thessaloniki. She studied Social Sciences at the Department of Psychology, School of Philosophy, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. Field of Study: Social & Clinical Psychology. She works at the Hellenic Society of Alzheimer's Disease & Related Disorders with specialty of the Psychologist in the field of Diagnosis, Treatment, Research Papers, Publications in Journals, Books & Presentations in Conferences and Professional Training Programs. She participated in the weighting of the "Test of Everyday Attention" test in patients with Alzheimer's disease. The data collection process was carried out at the Charisio Nursing Home and at the 3rd Neurological Clinic of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. Publications in books "Standardized assessment of personality" (SAP) in the book: Tests and criteria for the assessment of brain dysfunctions. She participated in the first Conference on Alzheimer's Disease (2000) with the paper "Personality characteristics of patients with Alzheimer's disease before and after the onset of the disease". She is married and has two wonderful daughters.

