

Dimitriou Tatiana

Tatiana Dimitriou was born in Athens in 1988. She graduated from National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (BA in Psychology) and in 2011 she graduated from Kingston University of London (MSc). She has a PhD in Neuroscience from Medical School of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. Her thesis was "Non-pharmacological interventions for the BPSD in dementia patients". She got her PhD title with a remarkable mark. She has published numerous of original articles (21), and she has co-write many others, as well. She works as a psychologist in Athens and Corinthos. She daily examines several patients with dementia and adults with depressive symptoms, anxiety, panic attacks and other disorders. She was a volunteer in General Hospital "G. Gennimatas" of Athens (2012-2015) in the memory faculty , with mr. Papatriantafyllou (PhD, MD) as a supervisor. She has worked in "Nestor" company of mr. Mougias (PhD, MD) in Athens as a neuropsychologist. Her interests include neurodegenerative diseases, non-pharmacological interventions and other.

