

Fabbo Andrea

I was born in 1969. I am a geriatrician who works for the Local Agency of Health in County Modena, Italy. I am both the director of the Geriatrics clinics and the responsible director of the socio-health integration area. My unit has 30 geriatricians, 13 occupational therapists and 15 nurses, spread all over 7 districts.

Professional training:

11-11-1991: degree in Medicine and Surgery at the University of Naples "Federico II" with a grade of 110/110

- 1991 (2nd session): qualification to practice the profession of medical surgeon at the aforementioned University with a grade of 86/90

- 1992-1996: enrollment, as a scholarship holder (L.257/91), at the School of Specialization in Geriatrics at the University of Parma

- 11-8-1996: specialization diploma in Geriatrics at the University of Parma with a grade of 50/50 cum laude; prepares an experimental thesis entitled: "Cholinergic therapy of Alzheimer's disease: preliminary results of a study with SDZ-ENA 713 (rivastigmine)".

Greetings, Andrea Fabbo MD
