

Giasirani Konstantina

My name is Giasirani Konstantina and I am from Rhodes, Greece. In 2021, I graduated with honors from the Physiotherapy Department of the University of Patras. After my main studies, I received specialized training certificates in "Physiotherapy in the Intensive Care Unit: modern evidence-based approaches" (University of Thessaly, 2020-2021) and in "Rehabilitation of Patients after Cardiovascular Operations" (National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, 2022). In 2022, I started studying as a postgraduate student in the Department of Medicine of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki "Neurosciences and Neurodegenerative Diseases". In between, I participated as a speaker and as a trainee in several conferences and workshops and I continue to train. My first professional contact with physical therapy was in my internship in a private physical therapy clinic as a student in 2019. Later, from 2021 to 2023, I worked as a physical therapist in a private home-based company. Since then, I have been practicing my professional duties at the boarding school for patients with end-stage dementia based in Rhodes.
