

Iatraki Eliza

BSc in Psychology (University of Crete-Rethymno), in Social Work (TEI of Crete-Heraklion) and Pedagogical Studies (SELETE /PATES Heraklion). PhD & MSc Diploma in "Public Health" / Postgraduate Program in "Public Health and Management of Health Services" Department of Medicine, School of Health Sciences (University of Crete-Heraklion) regarding the assessment of the burden of caregivers of patients with dementia and the development of instruments for the detection of cognitive disorders and dementia for use by healthcare professionals in Primary Health Care (PHC) (2 original research articles). Certificate of Specialization (2015)

"Certified Training in Counseling", Laboratory of Applied Economic and Social Policy, University of Ioannina. Scientific Collaborator (1996-2019), Clinic of Social and Family Medicine, Department of Medicine (University of Crete-Heraklion) with special research interest in the development and standardization of research tools in the field of individuals burdened of care of demented patients and assessment of cognitive disorders in PHC. Psychologist and Social Worker (1999-), Department of Social Welfare, Education & Culture in Municipality of Hersonissos. Member of the Scientific Committee of the Society of ALLILEGGII Heraklion for Alzheimer's Disease and Healthy Aging (2011-). Voluntary consulting services (2007-) scientific responsibility for 'Psychological Support Group' of caregivers of demented patients.